Renaissance Center Sometimes all it takes is knowing someone cares. Recent suicides from well-known public personalities have many persons asking how WE—as communities—can respond to the mental and emotional needs of our friends, family members, and colleagues? The Renaissance Christian Counseling Center wants the Church and Community to know they are a resource as individuals, families, and communities navigate through life's challenges and difficulties. The Renaissance Center cares and has licensed, professional counseling available from their offices located at 6665 Security Blvd. Reach the center online at www.therenaissancecenter.org or at 410-265-7291. Sometimes all it takes is knowing someone cares. Visit this article for information on signs you can look for and steps you can take if you are concerned about someone's emotional or mental well being: <https://www.helpguide.org/articles/suicide-prevention/suicide-prevention.htm>
